Johnson & Wales University Charlotte invites high school culinary teachers to the 2nd annual Culinary Skills and Education Summit. This 2 ½ day professional development experience will provide hands-on learning and skill development with JWU chef instructors as well as educational information from the College of Food Innovation & Technology. The content and resources developed for this year's summit are new for 2022. Content will include:

- Culinary skills and techniques
- Baking and pastry preparation techniques
- Strategies for teaching content in the high school classroom embedded throughout technique instruction each day
- Breakout session (available options based on instructor offerings)

Hotel Information: For your convenience, rooms are available (Sun-Wed) for $139/night at the Doubletree Hotel by Hilton on the JWU campus, directly across from the JWU Academic Center. This special pricing includes parking. Participants are responsible for their lodging and transportation costs. Please reserve your room HERE. When reserving your room, edit/confirm the dates you will need for the session you plan to attend.

Plan to bring: Participants should bring/wear their culinary uniform (close-toed shoes, jacket, pants, hair restraint) for the day sessions and casual clothing for non-instructional time.

Allergies/Extra Information: After registration, participants will receive an additional form by email to complete requesting information related to food allergies, coat size and breakout session selection.

CEUs: Participants will receive a certificate of attendance, agenda, and suggested contact hours. Educators will need to refer to their local school and state guidelines for CEU submission and approval. The estimated instructional time is 20 contact hours (2 CEU).

The registration deadline is June 15, 2022 or until all space is filled. A detailed agenda will be emailed to registrants on July 1. If you have any questions regarding the summit, please contact Mandy Hines at 336-395-4701 or mandy.hines@jwu.edu.
